Camp Discovery

12 Years of Summer Learning Fun

April 2, 2008

For the past 12 years hundreds of children enjoyed Camp Discovery, an exciting week filled with learning fun.

This year Camp Discovery is back with programs in science, computers, arts and crafts, drama, games, and fitness. And our popular “Build a Toy” program from Home Depot gives all our campers a chance to develop new skills.

Camp Discovery learning activities are tailored to each child’s grade level, and they are taught by certified teachers. Your child will create artwork, fly airplanes, and learn about science through hands-on projects. And we are adding Frisbee physics, toothpick towers, shoebox guitars, and bubbles.

And there’s more. The children use their imagination in drama activities. They learn life skills--listening, speaking, memorizing, and self-expression. They learn how to use computers safely. They’ll discover new websites and develop projects with digital cameras and scanners.

And there’s still more. Physical activity programs focus on fitness, good sportsmanship, and fair play.

We’ll top off the week with a special Show that’s sure to please everyone.

Give your child a wonderful start this summer. Enroll them in Camp Discovery where learning is fun. They’ll love you for it.

Sincerely yours,

Jane Anthony,
Camp Director
